

Innovationsbron AB and UUAB new shareholders

Uppsala, Sweden, 2011-05-05

Gradientech today announces a new investment and the addition of Innovationsbron AB and the Uppsala University Holding Company (UUAB) to its shareholders. The funds will be used to finance the final development and launching of Gradientech's two first CellDirector® products.

“We are pleased to welcome Innovationsbron and UUAB as shareholders” says Gradientech CEO, Sara Thorslund. “Both Innovationsbron and UUAB have a strong track record and wide experience in supporting and guiding innovation-driven small companies. We look forward to our future collaboration.”

Allan Asp from Innovationsbron joins the Board of Gradientech. “We welcome Allan Asp as new Board Member of Gradientech. Allan Asp has long experience from life science companies like Pharmacia, Pyrosequencing and Alphahelix and adds valuable competence to the company”, says Sören Nygren, Chairman of the Board.

About Gradientech AB

Gradientech AB is a Swedish life science company developing and marketing unique microscale platforms for the cell biology research market. Gradientech was founded in 2009 and is a spin-off company from Uppsala University. The platforms are marketed within the CellDirector® family and the first products will be commercially available in the end of 2011.
